HOOVER BOOM CENSURED BY BOTH MAJOR PARTIES ON INDEPENDENT STAND

Party Leaders Maintain Sharp Refusal to Nominate Candidate Unless He Comes Out Squarely for One of the Political Parties.

CANNOT WIN ON HIS PERSONAL FOLLOWING

Opinion Rife in Capital That Hoover is Playing Politics at the Expense of Party Control. Uneasiness Felt Over Reaction on Political Program.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Herbert C. Hoover, former food administrator, will not be nominated for the presidency on either the Republican or Democratic ticket—unless.

This is the law as laid down by the party leaders here as they cast practiced eyes over the reports coming in from seaboard to seaboard telling of the progress of the Hoover boom. And judging by the steady glitter in their optics as they thus pronounce judgment on the non-party man, the fur will fly in San Francisco or in Chicago, for that matter, if anybody tries to put the former food administrator over without his coming out fairly and squarely in the open for one or the other of the major parties.

Hoover may be good timber, both sides say here, but what party does he belong to?

Republican? Democratic? Or some other?

Old line party men insist Hoover must be one thing or the other, either a Democrat or a Republican if he wants to play marbles with the gang.

So say both "gangs."

"Before the San Francisco convention would nominate Hoover," a visiting Democratic committeeman, slightly inclined Hooverward, stated, "he would have to come out flat-footedly with an announcement which would place him categorically inside the democratic party. That's sure."

"A personal following is not sufficient to get a man elected," this defender of Jacksonian Democracy went on. "This late Theodore Roosevelt demonstrated to his cost. Roosevelt had a bigger personal following than Hoover has and when he tried to get to the White House without the help of the G. O. P. organization or the Democrats, he failed utterly. Hoover must pick one side or the other and hoist his flag if he would be president."

This pretty well sums up the feeling here in political circles. Nevertheless neither party seems able to keep its eyes off Hoover long at a time thus betraying a certain uneasy watchfulness on their part. Some of the more out spoken members admit he is a "new species of political bird" and that they cannot help watching the way he uses his wings.

SCHOOL RELIEF MEASURES WILL RECEIVE TRIAL

Provided for in Provisions of Public Schools.

TAXES RAISE MILLIONS

Special Consideration to Be Paid Matter of Finances of Bill Now Up.

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—Two school relief measures will come up for their fate soon after the house reconvenes late today. The entire question of school finances will claim special consideration by the house sitting as a committee of the whole Tuesday afternoon.

The first bill to be considered is the school revenue bill, introduced by joint taxation committee. This measure proposes a state wide school tax of one and seven tenths mills. According to estimates, this tax would raise $17,000,000, enough to pay fifty per cent of the teachers salaries. The bill also proposes the creation of a county educational fund by a levy of one mill additional, the revenue collected to be held in the county from which it originated. A school district levy of not more than three mills is also planned in the bill.

The revenue raised by the state levy would be distributed to the counties, based on $200 to $350 for each necessary teacher and the rest dependent on the aggregate number of days of school attendance.

If the combined state and county funds are distributed, the bill proposes that it be done on the basis of $300 to $475 for each necessary teacher, and the remaining funds dependent on the aggregate number of days of school attendance.

The second school relief bill to be considered, the teachers' salary schedule bill, drafted by the joint committee investigating state employees salaries, proposes a minimum salary of $800 for all state teachers, which is graduated up to $1,400 on the basis of training. Yearly increases for all teachers are proposed.

OPTIMISM FELT ON FINAL SETTLEMENT OF PEACE TREATY

End of Week See Last Chapter of Congressional Fight Belief.

Optimistic people were hopeful today that this week would see the end of the peace treaty deadlock.

The bi-partisan conference, which has been struggling for several days to effect a compromise on the treaty, was to meet again late today and resume its negotiations.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, was expected to deliver an ultimatum to the Democrats, to the effect that the wording of the important reservations might be changed, but that the principles must be preserved if the treaty is to be ratified.

Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader, is expected to deliver a counter ultimatum, insisting upon reservations which will not disarm the treaty.

DEMENTED NURSE DISFIGURES BABY

London, Jan. 26.—A demented nurse has been arrested at Lucerne for disfiguring the year and a half old son of Colonel William N. Hensley of the United States army with acid. It is charged the nurse attempted to take the boy's life.

Among the papers found in the nurse's possession was a paper reading:

"The lions and tigers are hungry, why shouldn't the children of the bourgeois be fed to them."

The attending physicians said that the baby will recover, but that he will bear the scars all his life.

Colonel Hensley is the chief of the American army balloon service. He came to Europe on the dirigible balloon R-34.

DEFENDS HOLLAND'S REFUSAL OF ALLIES

Rome, Jan. 26.—Holland's decision, refusing to surrender the ex-kaizer, was defended by Professor Conti, Italy's foremost international law expert today.

He declared that the extradition and trial of the former emperor would be a "judicial enormity." The Dutch refusal, he contended, would lend encouragement to countries respecting the elementary principles of international law.

ATTACK ON RED CROSS BY REDS NOT CONFIRMED

War Department Has No Knowledge of Report of Capture of Yanks.

REPORT IS MEAGRE

Dispatch States Women Have Been Taken With Members of R. C. Workers.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The war department announced today that it was without official confirmation of the capture of a number of Americans by Bolsheviks in Siberia.

Lieut. Colonel Frank Roscoe Blunt, of Plano, Ills., is believed to be at the head of the party captured, the department announced. Col. Blunt is not an officer of the army but is connected with Chilean, Panamanian and mission. He was in the engineers reserve but was never called to service. Colonel Blunt has been connected with Chilean, Panamanian and the Chicago Northwestern Railways.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Withdrawal of American troops from Siberia may be delayed by the reported capture of a party of American engineers and Red Cross workers by the Bolsheviks.

The war department was today seeking complete information of the reported capture of Major W. M. Blunt, a Miss Ford and Captain Charette and American engineers near Klenchyskaye. Officials declare that they had no fear out that the release of the persons captured could be affected but it was understood that American troops would not leave the region until they could bring out the captured persons with them.

General Graves, in command of the Siberian forces, is expected to make immediate negotiations with the Bolsheviks for the release of the Americans.

Reports which have arrived here today were fragmentary and not complete.

ONE MAN KILLED IN DAYTON FIRE

One man is dead as the result of fire in the basement of the Young building, 34-38 West Third street, Dayton, which compelled scores of persons living in apartments in the Arcade to flee in their night clothes and caused damage amounting to several thousand dollars, shortly before midnight today.

The dead man is "Buddy" Williams, colored, blind janitor in the Arcade pool room. His body was found a foot of water in the basement where the fire originated, and where he slept. His right side was badly burned. He was partially clothed and was evidently overcome while trying to escape, his blindness preventing him finding his way out.

EXPECT OVER 4,000 FARMERS IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—More than 4,000 Ohio farmers and their families will be here when "farmers week" opens at Ohio State University today. "It is our aim to have something going on every hour that will be profitable to people of widely differing interests," said Dean Alfred Vivian, college of agriculture at the university.

Registration for courses in bee keeping, seed testing and home economics will be made during the morning session. A corn show, bee convention and a concert by farmers glee club from Venedotia will feature the program today.

Governor Cox will address the farmers Thursday.

"FLU" OUTBREAK IN DETROIT AT PEAK

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 26.—Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, city health commissioner, said today that he expected the "flu" outbreak in Detroit to reach its peak by Wednesday, and that the situation was well in hand, presenting no cause for alarm.

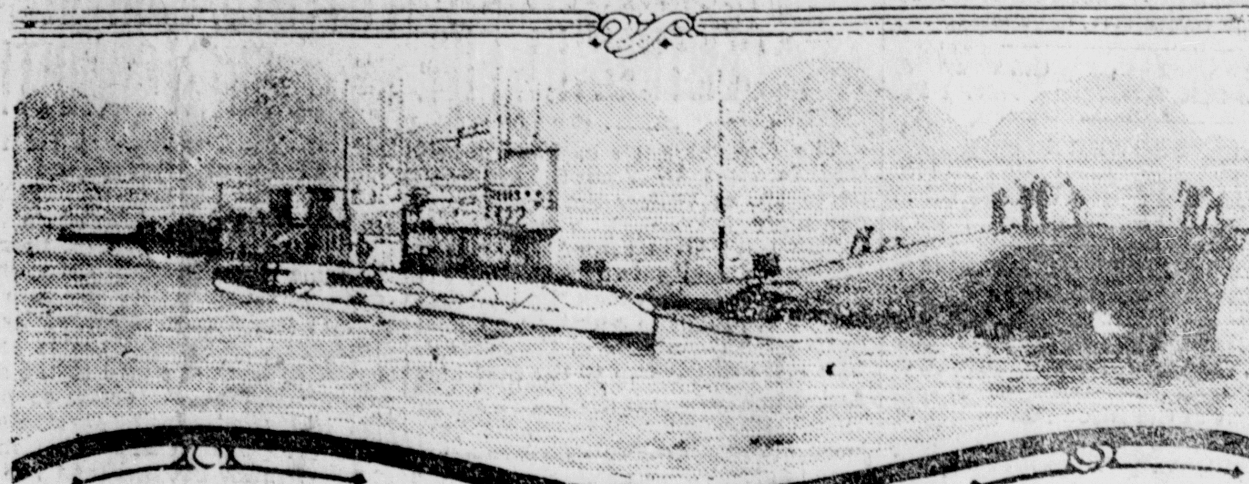

There were 590 cases of influenza and 40 of pneumonia reported for the past 24 hours, with nine deaths from the latter and three from the former disease.

CHICAGO BADLY HIT.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—With more than 10,000 cases of "flu" reported last week, and new cases developing at the rate of nearly 2,000 a day, Chicago today sent out an appeal for trained nurses throughout the country, and even Canada.

The appeal was made by Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health commissioner.

BRITAIN'S GREATEST SUBMERSIBLE TO TOUR WORLD

The British submersible K-22 with a German U-boat chained to her side.

One of the greatest war engines evolved during the world conflict is the new K type of submarine designed by British experts. The first K boat was finished several months after the war ended, so that there was no chance to use it against an enemy. But to show the world what the last word in under-sea boat construction in England is, the British government is sending the K-22, the greatest of the boats, on a trip around the world. Unless an accident happens, the K-22 will make the entire trip under her own power. Above water she travels from twenty to thirty knots an hour on steam. Under water she makes from fifteen to twenty knots on electricity. She carries two three-inch guns, depth charge projector and eight torpedo tubes.

HIGH COST OF LIVING TO MAKE INROADS INTO POCKETBOOKS OF ENGLISH FAMILIES

London, Jan. 26.—Everything that a family needs is to be dearer in England in 1920 according to statistics compiled today. Heads of large business houses and merchants of classes are unanimous in declaring that prices will continue to ascend indefinitely and they claim that the peak cannot be foreseen. Some of the reasons given for this condition include the depreciation of the pound sterling in the United States, increased wages, the wasteful use of labor and higher freight rates, amounting to $250,000,000 annually.

Tailors declare that cloth will advance 20 per cent this year. American buyers are purchasing anything they can get their hands on in the line of woolen. Woolen manufacturers recently added 60 per cent per yard to their prices. A government probe into alleged woolen profiteering is being conducted, but investigators say the report cannot be made in detail for four years. Even straw hats are to go up fifty per cent, according to the London Globe.

Shoe manufacturers are expecting to be asked to pay $1.80 to $2.00 a square foot for graining kid which in pre-war times cost 50 cents.

"This year we are told, was to be bumper year for prosperity," said the Globe. "It probably will be for manufacturers but not for consumers."

HINES CALLS HEADS OF RAIL UNIONS FOR A CONFERENCE

Director General Preparing Definite Answer to Demand for Increase.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Director General Hines has summoned the presidents of the 14 railroad unions to meet with him on Feb. 3. It was announced this afternoon. It is expected that the final answer on the wage demands of the railroad workers will be given at that time.

The shop laborers and maintenance of way brotherhoods have called a meeting to be held in Detroit on Feb. 5 to decide on the action to be taken in connection with Director General Hines answer.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Director General of the Railroads Hines today was preparing a definite answer to the insistent demand of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for a 40 per cent increase in wages.

Although the trainmen had requested that the railroad administration make known its policy on the demands by tomorrow, it was believed probable that the general executive committee of the organization would defer action at Mr. Hines' request, until the latter returns from a middle western inspection trip about Feb. 1. Shortly after that date Chairman W. G. Lee and the Grand Lodge officials will call upon Hines for a full response to their demands.

COOLIDGE REFUSAL OF CANDIDACY SURPRISE

Boston, Jan. 26.—The refusal of Governor Coolidge to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination has not disheartened his supporters, of who said today that the Coolidge-for-president boom will continue to grow despite his position.

The campaign for unpledged delegates will be continued, they said, and Coolidge supporters will urge the election of such delegates who are friendly to the governor and are prepared to do all that is possible to secure his nomination at the Chicago convention.

WANT PRISONER TRANSFER CHANGED

London, Jan. 26.—The Russian soviet government at Moscow has sent a wireless request to the British government that the negotiations over the release of British prisoners in soviet Russia be transferred from Denmark, it was announced today. This is a sequel to the complaint of Boris Litvinoff, representative of the soviet government at Copenhagen that he was held in a state of semi-arrest and could not continue the negotiations in that city. The British mission in Copenhagen is headed by James O'Grady, member of parliament.

RHODE ISLAND CASE ON PROHIBITION UP

Solicitor General Make Motion to Withdraw Pending Court Proceedings

Washington, Jan. 26.—The government today through Solicitor General King made a motion before the supreme court to dismiss the Rhode Island case testing the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment, and seeking an injunction against the attorney general from enforcement of the Volstead act.

The solicitor general says he will make an effort to get his motion before the supreme court early in March.

On the argument of this motion, all the issues raised by the state of Rhode Island may be decided by the supreme court, the test case settled and the constitutionality of the amendment decided.

PROPAGANDA BEGUN FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

Berlin Jan. 26.—A propaganda campaign in support of the recognition of the Republic of Ireland by the German government was launched today by Baron Von Horst.

He argues that the extension of the helping hand to Ireland by Germany will promote a reconciliation between this country and the United States.

Officials deny that the government is interested, declaring that there will be no negotiations which England might look upon as an unfriendly act.

COAL OPERATORS TO OPEN THEIR BOOKS

Washington, Jan. 26.—"The bituminous coal operators will open their books to the public for the first time this week and show actual cost of coal mining," said the members of the executive committee of the central competitive field in a statement today relative to the hearings in the wage controversy before the coal situation.

In the meantime the miners' representatives are preparing comprehensive tables of statistics and data bearing on wages and cost of living which will be presented to the commission in support of their demand for a 60 per cent increase in wages, a six hour working day and a five day week.

Investigation of Fire Hazards Being Conducted all Over City by Chief.

Fire prevention as a means of avoiding and cutting down the amount of loss from fire in this city, is the program now being followed by Captain Charles Mahanna, who has direct charge of the Xenia fire department.

Captain Mahanna is conducting an investigation of buildings in the business section of the city, locating fire hazards and determining the best way of fighting a fire should it occur in any of these buildings. Later all of the city firemen will make a like inspection and following their rounds a test will be conducted by the captain, during which firemen will be asked to locate the fire hazards in different buildings and to explain the best way of fighting the fires.

A map showing the location of fire alarm boxes and fire plugs is now on display in the engine house, and firemen are memorizing the location of the boxes and water plugs. Tests will be conducted on this part of the work later, in which the captain will imagine a fire at a certain place, and ask the firemen which is the best way to fight the fire and what water plugs to use.

Captain Mahanna is not only locating fire hazards and making notes of the different buildings, but his work will tend to eliminate inexcusable hazards. Owners of buildings which contain hazards that can be removed will be notified to make way with such hazards, and will be given ten days to correct them. In case the hazards are not removed by that time, the matter will be reported to the state fire marshal's office.

ASST. FIRE MARSHAL HERE.

John P. Wegman, assistant state fire marshal, was in the city Monday, on an inspection of buildings and fire hazards. The state fire marshal's office is greatly encouraging fire prevention methods, saying that fire prevention is worth more than any fire fighting equipment.

The last team of horses holding over from the day of the horse drawn equipment was sold by the city Saturday to Frank Lewis. The team had been used recently to haul the old ladder wagon.

A new thirty foot extension ladder has arrived and been added to the equipment of the new White truck, and will eliminate the necessity of the having the ladder wagon on any except down town calls. A coupling is being fixed to the ladder wagon so that it can be hauled by either of the trucks in case there is a fire in the business section or any buildings that require a longer ladder than the thirty foot extension.

COX OPPOSES A PRESIDENTIAL PLAN

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—A plan to endorse Governor Cox for the presidency at the meeting of the Democratic state central and executive committee here Thursday is opposed by Governor Cox, it is said. Cox is reported as wanting the question of presidential nomination brought to the party voters at the preference primaries in April.

A plan so that Ohio can present a solid delegation at the national convention instead of one divided between a couple of candidates, is being worked on by party leaders, it is claimed.

POWHATAN AGAIN IN TOW OF LINERS

New York, Jan. 26.—The U. S. transport Powhatan is again in tow and headed for Halifax, N. S., according to a wireless message received here today by the army transport service. The wrecking tug Relief and the coast guard cutter Aoushnet are towing the big steamer. Captain Randall's message today said that the weather is moderating.

BOND ISSUE IS THROWN OUT BY PARTY LEADERS

Congressmen Opposed to Increased Taxes or Bond Issue to Meet Deficit.

FEAR REACTION IN 1920

War Expenditures and Increased Salaries Given as Reason for Huge Sum Owed By Government.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Congressional leaders today are looking to the American banks to carry the government through a period of financial stress during the fiscal year 1921.

With an almost certain deficit of $3,000,000,000 for the fiscal year, leaders in congress are hopeful that this may be carried by short term treasury notes sold to the banks.

If the banks are unable to absorb short term notes to the extent of $3,000,000,000, there are but two alternatives, new taxes or a new bond issue, and both Democrats and Republicans in congress are opposed to such means of meeting the deficit.

Already there is a popular cry against the war taxes, and to make new taxes would bring a storm of protest against congress that would be reflected in the elections. The same holds practically true of a new bond issue. Congressional leaders do not feel that the public wants another bond issue.

"I do not know how congress is going to meet the 1921 financial problem of the government," said Rep. Henry T. Roney, of Illinois, a veteran of the house ways and means committee today.

HUGE EXPENSES SEEN.

"Facing us in the next fiscal year we see expenditures piling up to a huge total of approximately $9,000,000,000. We know that the revenue from all sources under existing law will not exceed in all probability $5,000,000,000. There is a certain deficit of about $4,000,000,000 facing the government."

"The government must make up this deficit in some way. Ways open are by increased taxes and new taxes; bond issue; or short term treasury certificates sold to banks. But the banks may be unable to lend to the government all the money it needs."

"Our huge annual expenditures are easily traced. The interest payments on the vast war debt and the sinking fund run far over a billion dollars a year, or more than a pre-war annual total cost of providing for the government. We have increased government salaries, military pensions and pay until the total needed now to take care of these increases is huge. And the end of these increases is not in sight. Many heavy war expenditures still continue and payments for war work remain to be made. War risk insurance is a heavy drain on the treasury. There are many other large items."

BRITISH PHYSICIANS ADMIT INABILITY TO STOP INFLUENZA

London, Jan. 26.—Official admission that the most mysterious disease germ of the ages—the influenza bacillus—has defeated the world's greatest scientists, was made today by Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the British health ministry.

The world sits powerless before the greatest devastator of history unable to prevent or cure the dread plague," said Sir George. "We have made all preparations to combat it, but are not able to do much."

"This mysterious disease," he added, "killed nearly 100,000 persons in the British Isles in 1918 and 1919. We were unable to prevent its spread then and we are in the same position now, despite the most searching investigation by the world's best brains. One can truthfully say that so far medical science has been defeated. Even the necessity of life saving during the war was not a sufficient incentive to bring about the discovery of the influenza germ. Here in Britain we are bending our utmost efforts to preventing complications directly resulting from influenza."

"The British health ministry's view is that alcohol is of no value as a remedy so far it has been able to observe. The use of masks also is fallacy, as the disadvantages overshadow the advantages. We therefore do not recommend them."

"We're appealing to individuals to remain calm, not to worry, lead ordinary lives and avoid crowding—there is really nothing else to do. No drug so far has proved a specific influenza preventive."

London, Jan. 26.—Everything that a family needs is to be dearer in England in 1920 according to statistics compiled today. Heads of large business houses and merchants of classes are unanimous in declaring that prices will continue to ascend indefinitely and they claim that the peak cannot be foreseen. Some of the reasons given for this condition include the depreciation of the pound sterling in the United States, increased wages, the wasteful use of labor and higher freight rates, amounting to $250,000,000 annually.

Tailors declare that cloth will advance 20 per cent this year. American buyers are purchasing anything they can get their hands on in the line of woolen. Woolen manufacturers recently added 60 per cent per yard to their prices. A government probe into alleged woolen profiteering is being conducted, but investigators say the report cannot be made in detail for four years. Even straw hats are to go up fifty per cent, according to the London Globe.

Shoe manufacturers are expecting to be asked to pay $1.80 to $2.00 a square foot for glazed kid which in prewar times cost 50 cents.

"This year we are told, was to be bumper year for prosperity," said the Globe. "It probably will be for manufacturers but not for consumers."

HINES CALLS HEADS OF RAIL UNIONS FOR A CONFERENCE

Director General Preparing Definite Answer to Demand for Increase.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Director General Hines has summoned the presidents of the 14 railroad unions to meet with him on Feb. 3. It was announced this afternoon. It is expected that the final answer on the wage demands of the railroad workers will be given at that time.

The shop laborers and maintenance of way brotherhoods have called a meeting to be held in Detroit on Feb. 5 to decide on the action to be taken in connection with Director General Hines answer.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Director General of the Railroads Hines today was preparing a definite answer to the insistent demand of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for a 40 per cent increase in wages.

Although the trainmen had requested that the railroad administration make known its policy on the demands by tomorrow, it was believed probable that the general executive committee of the organization would defer action at Mr. Hines' request, until the latter returns from a mid-western inspection trip about Feb. 1. Shortly after that date Chairman W. G. Lee and the Grand Lodge officials will call upon Hines for a full response to their demands.

COOLIDGE REFUSAL OF CANDIDACY SURPRISE

Boston, Jan. 26.—The refusal of Governor Coolidge to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination has not disheartened his supporters, of who said today that the Coolidge-for-president boom will continue to grow despite his action. The campaign for unpledged delegates will be continued, they said, and Coolidge supporters will urge the election of such delegates who are friendly to the governor and are prepared to do all that is possible to secure his nomination at the Chicago convention.

WANT PRISONER TRANSFER CHANGED

London, Jan. 26.—The Russian soviet government at Moscow has sent a wireless request to the British government that the negotiations over the release of British prisoners in soviet Russia be transferred from Denmark, it was announced today. This is a sequel to the complaint of Boris Litvinoff, representative of the soviet government at Copenhagen that he was held in a state of semi-arrest and could not continue the negotiations in that city. The British mission in Copenhagen is headed by James O'Grady, member of parliament.

RHODE ISLAND CASE ON PROHIBITION UP

Solicitor General Make Motion to Withdraw Pending Court Proceedings

Washington, Jan. 26.—The government today through Solicitor General King made a motion before the supreme court to dismiss the Rhode Island case testing the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment, and seeking an injunction against the attorney general from enforcement of the Volstead act.

The solicitor general says he will make an effort to get his motion before the supreme court early in March.

On the argument of this motion, all the issues raised by the state of Rhode Island may be decided by the supreme court, the test case settled and the constitutionality of the amendment decided.

PROPAGANDA BEGUN FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

Berlin, Jan. 26.—A propaganda campaign in support of the recognition of the Republic of Ireland by the German government was launched today by Baron Von Horst.

He argues that the extension of the helping hand to Ireland by Germany will promote a reconciliation between this country and the United States.

Officials deny that the government is interested, declaring that there will be no negotiations which England might look upon as an unfriendly act.

COAL OPERATORS TO OPEN THEIR BOOKS

Washington, Jan. 26.—"The bituminous coal operators will open their books to the public for the first time this week and show actual cost of coal mining," said the members of the executive committee of the central competitive field in a statement today relative to the hearings in the wage controversy before the coal situation.

In the meantime the miners' representatives are preparing comprehensive tables of statistics and data bearing on wages and cost of living which will be presented to the commission in support of their demand for a 60 per cent increase in wages, a six hour working day and a five day week.

Investigation of Fire Hazards Being Conducted all Over City by Chief.

Fire prevention as a means of avoiding and cutting down the amount of loss from fire in this city, is the program now being followed by Captain Charles Mahanna who has direct charge of the Xenia fire department.

Captain Mahanna is conducting an investigation of buildings in the business section of the city, locating fire hazards and determining the best way of fighting a fire should it occur in any of these buildings. Later all of the city firemen will make a like inspection and following their rounds a test will be conducted by the captain, during which firemen will be asked to locate the fire hazards in different buildings and to explain the best way of fighting the fires.

A map showing the location of fire alarm boxes and fire plugs is now on display in the engine house, and firemen are memorizing the location of the boxes and water plugs. Tests will be conducted on this part of the work later, in which the captain will imagine a fire at a certain place, and ask the firemen which is the best way to fight the fire and what water plugs to use.

Captain Mahanna is not only locating fire hazards and making notes of the different buildings, but his work will tend to eliminate inexcusable hazards. Owners of buildings which contain hazards that can be removed will be notified to make way with such hazards, and will be given ten days to correct them. In case the hazards are not removed by that time, the matter will be reported to the state fire marshal's office.

ASST. FIRE MARSHAL HERE. John P. Weerman, assistant state fire marshal, was in the city, Monday, on an inspection of buildings and fire hazards. The state fire marshal's office is greatly encouraging fire prevention methods, saying that fire prevention is worth more than any fire fighting equipment.

The last team of horses holding over from the day of the horse drawn equipment was sold by the city Saturday to Frank Lewis. The team had been used recently to haul the old ladder wagon.

A new thirty foot extension ladder has arrived and been added to the equipment of the new White truck, and will eliminate the necessity of the having the ladder wagon on any except down town calls. A coupling is being fixed to the ladder wagon so that it can be hauled by either of the trucks in case there is a fire in the business section or any buildings that require a longer ladder than the thirty foot extension.

COX OPPOSES A PRESIDENTIAL PLAN

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—A plan to endorse Governor Cox for the presidency at the meeting of the Democratic state central and executive committee here Thursday is opposed by Governor Cox, it is said. Cox is reported as wanting the question of presidential nomination brought to the party voters at the preference primaries in April.

A plan so that Ohio can present a solid delegation at the national convention instead of one divided between a couple of candidates, is being worked on by party leaders, it is claimed.

POWHATAN AGAIN IN TOW OF LINERS

Nw York, Jan. 26.—The U. S. transport Powhatan is again in tow and headed for Halifax, N. S., according to a wireless message received here today by the army transport service. The wrecking tug Relief and the coast guard cutter Aoushnet are towing the big steamer. Captain Randall's message today said that the weather is moderating.

BOND ISSUE IS THROWN OUT BY PARTY LEADERS

Congressmen Opposed to Increased Taxes or Bond Issue to Meet Deficit.

FEAR REACTION IN 1920

War Expenditures and Increased Salaries Given as Reason for Huge Sum Owed By Government.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Congressional leaders today are looking to the American banks to carry the government through a period of financial stress during the fiscal year 1921.

With an almost certain deficit of $3,000,000,000 for the fiscal year, leaders in congress are hopeful that this may be carried by short term treasury notes sold to the banks.

If the banks are unable to absorb short term notes to the extent of $3,000,000,000, there are but two alternatives, new taxes or a new bond issue, and both Democrats and Republicans in congress are opposed to such means of meeting the deficit.

Already there is a popular cry against the war taxes, and to make new taxes would bring a storm of protest against congress that would be reflected in the elections. The same holds practically true of a new bond issue. Congressional leaders do not feel that the public wants another bond issue.

"I do not know how congress is going to meet the 1921 financial problem of the government," said Rep. Henry T. Roney, of Illinois, a veteran of the house wars and means committee today.

HUGE EXPENSES SEEN. "Facing us in the next fiscal year we see expenditures piling up to a huge total of approximately $9,000,000,000. We know that the revenue from all sources under existing law will not exceed in all probability $8,000,000,000. There is a certain deficit of about $3,000,000,000 facing the government."

"The government must make up this deficit in some way. Ways open are by increased taxes and new taxes: bond issue; or short term treasury certificates sold to banks. But the banks may be unable to lend to the government all the money it needs."

"Our huge annual expenditures are easily traced. The interest payments on the vast war debt and the sinking fund run far over a billion dollars a year, or more than a pre-war annual total cost of providing for the government. We have increased government salaries, military pensions and pay until the total needed now to take care of these increases is huge. And the end of these increases is not in sight. Many heavy war expenditures still continue and payments for war remain to be made. War risk insurance is a heavy drain on the treasury. There are many other large items."

BRITISH PHYSICIANS ADMIT INABILITY TO STOP INFLUENZA

London, Jan. 26.—Official admission that the most mysterious disease germ of the ages—the influenza bacillus—has defeated the world's greatest scientists, was made today by Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the British health ministry.

"The world sits powerless before the greatest devastator of history unable to prevent or cure the dread plague," said Sir George. "We have made all preparations to combat it, but are not able to do much."

"This mysterious disease," he added, "killed nearly 100,000 persons in the British Isles in 1918 and 1919. We were unable to prevent its spread then and we are in the same position now, despite the most searching investigation by the world's best brains. One can truthfully say that so far medical science has been defeated. Even the necessity of life saving during the war was not a sufficient incentive to bring about the discovery of the influenza germ. Here in Britain we are bending our utmost efforts to preventing complications directly resulting from influenza."

"The British health ministry's view is that alcohol is of no value as a remedy so far it has been able to observe. The use of masks also is fallacy, as the disadvantages overshadow the advantages. We therefore do not recommend them."

"We're appealing to individuals to remain calm, not to worry, lead ordinary lives and avoid crowding—there is really nothing else to do. No drug so far has proved a specific influenza preventive."

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES RICH RED BLOOD

Helps Restore Thin, Run-Down Men and Women to Vigorous Full-Blooded Health.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS
Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form—The Name "Gude's" the Guide to the Genuine.

It is a true saying that your health is only as good as your blood. Good, rich blood manifests itself in a healthy, natural complexion; clear, keen eyes; tireless energy and enthusiasm; and an abundant supply of reserve strength.

And just as positively does poor, thin blood directly influence the entire system. Pale, sallow complexions; dull eyes; a listless step; languidness; tiredness; worn-out feeling; general dejection and unhappiness—all are positive signs that the body is not receiving its proper nourishment through the blood.

Pepto-Mangan helps restore vigorous health because it contains the very elements so much needed by the blood to enable it to perform its functions and supply the body with nourishment, energy and strength.

For your convenience, Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal value.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and that is "Gude's." If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan—Adv.

A WEIGHT HAS BEEN TAKEN OFF MY EXISTENCE

Columbus man relieved of awful pains and soreness in his stomach, dizzy spells and biliousness.

Gives all praise and credit to Dreo, the great herbal compound.

"This new medicine, Dreo, has relieved an awful pain and soreness in my stomach and bowels, also it has overcome the vertigo and dizziness and the splitting headaches, which frequently struck me. Since getting such splendid relief, I feel that a big weight has been lifted from my existence. I gladly recommend Dreo," said Mr. John McCracken, of 119 South Fourth Street, Columbus, O.

An inactive, sluggish liver is the cause in many cases of headaches, neuralgia, vertigo, dizzy spells and aching pains in the temple. Strong cathartic medicine will excite the liver to action for a short time, but this effect soon passes off, and you are just as bad, if not worse, than at first. What is needed is a natural medicine that will clear out the bile, day by day, in a pleasant way, and at the same time have a tonic effect on the organs to give them strength and keep them acting regularly. That is the secret of the success of Dreo. It is a natural herb medicine which acts on the vital organs as a tonic to restore them to full action as Nature intends. That's why Dreo effects are lasting.

Nature has always furnished mankind with a cure for his ills, and Nature's remedies are safe, as they do not contain strong minerals. Dreo is a vegetable remedy, made from Nature's store of roots, herbs, barks and berries. Dreo is a pure and uniform medicine that will cleanse the blood of all impurities and strengthen all those who need a good tonic.

All good druggists now sell Dreo, and it is highly recommended in Xenia by Solm's Drug Store. —adv

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salt and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mucus, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE LOSES TO ANTIOCH

The Antioch College quintet defeated Cedarville College 29 to 21. Cedarville Saturday night. The contest was very fast, both teams playing a snappy brand of ball from the sound of the starting whistle, until the timer's signal ended the game.

The two teams were evenly matched, Cedarville's advantage of playing on their own floor being balanced by the team work that the Antioch squad has developed under Coach Godfrey.

Corry played a fine game for Antioch being in almost even play. Vannorsdall at forward and Barr at guard also played well.

For Cedarville, Creswell was the big noise, and he kept his team in the running by his excellent work. Foster and Thorne also played well.

HOOVER REMAINS A SPHINX.

Impossible to exaggerate the effect upon Washington of the New York World's projection of Mr. Hoover's name into the political situation. Senators and representatives are working hard to cut the nation's cloth to suit the measure of the necessities but have not yet made up their minds where to cut. It is difficult to say in which camp, Republican or Democratic, the bombshell has caused the greatest perturbation. The smashing of teeth on both sides. Months of calculations and favorite sons are anguish-stricken.

The suggestion that before next June comes around both parties may be engaged in a feverish competition to nominate Hoover first has sent cold chills down at least a dozen spines. The Republicans agree that never in modern presidential history has an amazing and anomalous situation prevailed. In both the Republican and Democratic organization circles leaders are taking up strike attitudes of defiance and proclaim that Herbert Hoover can never secure the regular nomination of either party.

The Republican organization, it may be stated with positiveness, will only consent to Mr. Hoover's nomination if it can be persuaded that it is the one and the only way of staying off the Democratic administration, or a so-called Democratic administration, for Mr. Hoover's ambition, everybody knows, will be to make a strictly non-party President.

The Democratic stalwarts are just as little enamored of a Hoover candidacy as the Republican brethren. They would take Mr. Hoover in order to beat the Republicans, but would swallow him with a frown.

Mr. Hoover, for reasons best known to his enigmatic self, declines to relieve the anxiety of the organization politicians by declaring himself. He continues to compel them to guess and grope in the dark. Persons have said he was a Republican; others call him a Progressive; some dub him a Democrat. All have spoken of Mr. Hoover. He remains a sphinx, compared to which the monsters of the Egyptian sands are loquacity personified.

BETTER FEELING OVER THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

Announcement that the Mexican Government has granted provisional permits to American petroleum producers to resume drilling, the permits to continue in force only until the enactment of new oil legislation, is interpreted to mean that the Mexican authorities have taken a more reasonable attitude toward foreign capital, particularly American, invested in Mexico.

The full significance of President Carranza's action can be understood when it is realized that elections will be held in Mexico next July, and a new president and new congress will undoubtedly decide the character of the new legislation.

It is the belief of both government officials and representatives of the American oil interests in Washington that, when the new Mexican president and congress take office, it will be with a better outlook for an amicable settlement of the oil problem, which has repeatedly drawn Mexico and the United States near the breaking point and has caused the dispatch to Mexico of a number of protests, from other nations as well as the United States.

There is a strong optimistic feeling that the action of President Carranza prepares the way for a friendly adjustment of the grievances of American interests, and also for a consideration in a new spirit of other outstanding issues between Washington and Mexico City. There is a reason to believe that the oil companies will accept in good faith the "overtures" of Mexico.

GREENE COUNTY FARMERS ATTEND MEETING OF OHIO AGRICULTURISTS IN COLUMBUS

About seventy-five Greene county farmers are expected to attend the Ohio Farmers' Week programs which opened at the Ohio State University Monday morning, and will continue all week.

E. Bradfute, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, which holds its annual meeting in Columbus each week, will be a speaker at the meeting. Several Greene county farmers will contribute grain and to the exhibit which will be the meeting. Among the exhibitors will be A. B. Lewis of township, who won the corn contest last year, and a member of the Ohio Bushel Corn Club this year, C. Peterson and E. J. Keiser of Spring Valley are also grain.

Representative W. B. Brynner, representing the Greene County Bureau at the meeting, and Agent Ford S. Prince will also attend the meeting.

The meetings opened Monday morning with an address on "Ohio's New Drainage Law" by H. C. Ramsdover, director of extension service of the university, which was delivered in University Hall. At the same time, C. S. Plumb of the department of animal husbandry spoke on "Community Breeding in Ohio" in the judging pavilion. Registration for courses in bookkeeping, seed testing and home economics took place at the same hour.

President W. O. Thompson extended greeting on behalf of the university at 11 o'clock. Governor Cox will address the farmers Thursday morning.

Among the subjects that were discussed by specialists Monday were: "Poultry from the Farms to the Markets in the East"; "Improving Our Breeds of Farm Crops"; "Feeding the Family"; "Conducting Live Stock Sales"; "Dollars and Dimes"; "The Use of Combination Feedstuffs";

50 cents you can get 3 ounces of Glando Pine, mix it with good syrup or strained honey to make a pint and you will have cough medicine you ever used. It can be beat for coughs, hoarseness, throat irritations or croup. Glando Pine relieves the hic coughing in whooping cough. Children love to take it. To a cold from developing into pneumonia or bronchitis, hold a cup of Glando Pine well back in the mouth or throat and take deep breaths before swallowing.

You can feel the air cells opening up and you will breathe deep and easy.

W. M. J. Fellers of Lima, Ohio, says: "I took cold which resulted in a severe cough. It hung on for several months. I coughed especially at night. I lived in a flat and my neighbors believed I had tuberculosis, asked the owner of the flat to have me move out. He did. I used different remedies but found no relief until I used Glando Pine. The first dose seemed to help me. I began gaining weight and by the time I had used two bottles my cough was gone. Over the years have passed and my cough has not returned. I believe Glando Pine saved my life."

HOOPER REMAINS A SPHINX.

Impossible to exaggerate the effect upon Washington of Mr. Hoover's nomination. Senators and representatives are working to cut the nation's cloth to suit the measure of the situation. It is difficult to say in which camp, Republican or Democratic, the bombshell has caused the greatest perturbation. Favorite sons are anguished-stricken.

The suggestion that before next June comes around both parties may be engaged in a feverish competition to nominate Hoover has sent cold chills down at least a dozen spines. Republicans agree that never in modern presidential history has an amazing and anomalous situation prevailed. In both Republican and Democratic organization circles leaders are up, strike attitudes of defiance and proclaim that Hoover can never secure the regular nomination of either party.

The Republican organization, it may be stated with positiveness, will only consent to Mr. Hoover's nomination if it can be persuaded that it is the one and the only way of staying in power. Democratic administration, or a so-called Democratic administration, for Mr. Hoover's ambition, everybody knows, will be to make a strictly non-party President.

Democratic stalwarts are just as little enamored of a Hoover candidacy as the Republican brethren. They would take Mr. Hoover in order to beat the Republicans, but would swallow him with a frown.

Mr. Hoover, for reasons best known to his enigmatic self, desires to relieve the anxiety of the organization politicians by declaring himself. He continues to compel them to guess and grope in the dark. Persons have said he was a Republican; others call him a Progressive; some dub him a Democrat. All have spoken of Mr. Hoover. He remains a sphinx, compared to which the monsters of the Egyptian sands are loquacity personified.

BETTER FEELING OVER THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

Announcement that the Mexican Government has granted provisional permits to American petroleum producers to resume drilling, the permits to continue in force only until the enactment of new oil legislation, is interpreted to mean that the Mexican authorities have taken a more reasonable attitude toward foreign capital, particularly American, invested in Mexico.

The full significance of President Carranza's action can be understood when it is realized that elections will be held in Mexico next July, and a new president and new congress will undoubtedly decide the character of the new legislation.

It is the belief of both government officials and representatives of the American oil interests in Washington that, when the new Mexican president and congress take office, it will be with a better outlook for an amicable settlement of the oil problem, which has repeatedly drawn Mexico and the United States near the breaking point and has caused the dispatch to Mexico of a number of protests, from other nations as well as the United States.

There is a strong optimistic feeling that the action of President Carranza prepares the way for a friendly adjustment of the grievances of American interests, and also for a consideration in a new spirit of other outstanding issues between Washington and Mexico City. There is a reason to believe that the oil companies will accept in good faith the "overtures" of Mexico.

Howard, of Wichita, Kan., is president; J. J. Lange, of Washington, D. C., vice president; F. McPherson, of Tampa, Fla., secretary, and P. L. Mannen, of Augusta, Ga., treasurer, according to their standing in sales.

WOULD BE "SOMETHING LIKE"

Wireless Telephone Nothing to Invention Some Women Hope to See Before Many Years.

An inventor announces that he will soon have on the market a wireless telephone that a man can carry around in his hat. There will be another telephone in his home tuned up with the one inside of his hat, and the result will be that the man's wife can talk to him wherever he may be, whether it be his office, a street corner, a baseball game or a church.

This is a fine thing indeed, and may really be considered a step in advance, but it is not what the wives of the world are looking for. The wives of the world are looking for something that will beat a telephone in the last all hollow.

We may as well confide to you the fact that there is wild hope surging through the hearts of women that some day there will be invented a contrivance by means of which they will be enabled to see the men folks at all times and wherever they may be. A man can fool a woman with a hat telephone just as easily as he can fool her with the telephones we have now. He can say he is attending a meeting of church wardens when he is really sitting in a poker game; and how is the wife to know any different?

But when this thing is invented by means of which the lady can look into something like a crystal ball and see the man person just where he is and exactly what he is doing, then, dear folks, you may prepare to see the world turn good.

The mere man will not be allowed to use this delicate instrument.

Yes, it will be a better world then, but there won't be much fun in it.—Los Angeles Times.

REP. FESS RECALLS HOOVER'S PLEA FOR DEMOCRATS IN 1918

Washington, Jan. 26—If an attempt is made to Hooverize the Republican national convention, there will be read to the convention the statement that was given out by Herbert Hoover in 1918 in which he called on the people of the United States to elect a Democratic congress. This statement is made on authority of Representative Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican congressional committee who was in charge of the Republican congressional campaign at that time and who has never forgiven the food controller for "butting" into partisan politics in that campaign.

Chairman Fess said today: "Hoover attempted to capitalize the blood of our sons fighting and dying in France for partisan purposes. If any one has the hardihood to present his name in the Republican convention this plea for Democratic control will be read to the convention."

The plea referred to by Dr. Fess was put forth by Hoover on the Monday before election day.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

SAYS HUSBAND CAN SEE A BIG CHANGE IN HER

Benefits This Woman Gained on Vola-Tonic Are Easily Noticed.

Although Mrs. Mary Bonner, of 737 Clark street, Cincinnati, O., has been taking Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," only a short time she is so much improved that she says her husband can see a big change in her.

"I know I feel a lot better and the fact that my husband can see such a big change in me is convincing proof of the work Vola-Tonic has been doing in my case," Mrs. Bonner said.

"My stomach troubled me and I also have been nervous and run down for a long time," she continued. "I had indigestion and constipation and gas always formed on my stomach after eating. I was constipated so bad that I had to take laxatives all the time."

"Now, consider that I have only taken one bottle of Vola-Tonic and then see if you don't think what the medicine has done for me has been unusual."

"The constipation is gone. I do not have to take laxatives at all now. The indigestion is much better also, and I am never troubled with gas on my stomach after eating now. My nerves, too, have been greatly improved by Vola-Tonic and I notice that I have been built up all over."

"My husband says he can notice a big change in my condition, and that is convincing proof that the medicine has done me a great deal of good."

"It is a real pleasure for me to recommend Vola-Tonic to everybody who is suffering as I did."

Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," brings the weakened, run down man or woman a good appetite and good digestion. It helps the stomach take strengthening nutrition from food to nourish and build up the body and system all over. Vola-Tonic also helps the nerves and permits sound, energy restoring sleep every night. As a result, the weakened, run down man or woman soon turns to full normal strength and health.

Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," is a complete tonic in Xenia, Ohio, and is sold by druggists.

ALL STAR TEAM IS PICKED BY GAZETTE

The Gazette and Republican is announcing the following aggregation as its picked mythical all-star team of the Central High School basketball tournament at the rink last week.

While there was an abundance of mediocre talent on hand there were few first class players which made the selection a difficult one. Sparkling forwards were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth, yet Luce, of Cedarville, would have appeared in better form had a recent illness not hindered his playing. This lad while only participating in part of each game in which his team played, is given the call for forward as he plays a consistent game and has a keen eye on the basket. Atlee of Port William, is selected for the other position because of his floor game, while Cramer of Bellbrook, and Husted of Yellow Springs are picked for the second team.

There was a dearth of good centers, but McClain, high score man for the tourney, is placed at the tip-off position, with Turner of Bellbrook, as second choice. Woods of Port William, played an all-around floor game and gets one of the guard positions, while Finley, a fast man and with a good eye on the net, is selected as his running mate. Weiss of Yellow Springs, Davis, the boy wonder of Cedarville, Perry of Jamestown, and Wood of Bellbrook, were runners up for the position.

|------------------|-------|------|-------|
| McClain, Ced. | 19 | 7 | 45 |
| Turner, Bell. | 7 | 4 | 18 |
| Atlee, P. W. | 7 | 0 | 14 |
| Haley, P. W. | 4 | 6 | 14 |
| Cramer, Bell. | 6 | 1 | 13 |

GRANGE NOTES

Every patron should plan to attend the Pomona Grange at Yellow Springs next Wednesday, Jan. 28.

The young people of Beaver Grange are planning to give a play early in the spring.

The continued stormy and icy weather is making it difficult for the Granges to get their officers installed and work started for the new year.

It is an interesting fact that the new master of the National Grange, Sherman J. Lowell, is a member of Fredonia Grange No. 1, in New York State, the first subordinate Grange organized in the U. S. It has over 800 members.

State Master Taber in re-appointing S. H. Shawhan, deputy for Greene county, writes: "This will be the easiest year in our history to organize new Granges. Seven new Granges were organized the first seven days in the new year. The defeat of classification has convinced all thinking farmers of the value of the Grange."

The Ohio State Grange on Dec. 1, 1919, numbered 821 subordinate Granges with 87,508 members, an increase of over 11,500 members in 1919. The goal of 100,000 members in 1920 will no doubt be easily reached. The State Grange receipts for the last fiscal year was $37,000, and the State Grange has $50,000 invested in Liberty bonds.

WILBERFORCE DEFEATS W. C. C. S. GIRLS' TEAM

Wilberforce University Girls' basketball team defeated the War Camp Community Service Girls' Sextette at Wilberforce, Saturday evening, by the score of 26-27.

The Columbus team was no match for the Wilberforce girls, who got away to a big lead in the first half and were never headed, the period ending 14-3. The visitors out-scored the Wilberforce girls in the second period, who being out of danger, slackened their pace in the final session. Columbus scored 14 points to the locals 12 in this period.

The lineup and summary:

Wilberforce 26. Columbus 17.
E. Gordon, 6; M. Marshall, 3; L. Pogue, 4. Columbus—Field goals: R. Coleman, 6; R. Alston, 2; foul goals—R. Alston, 3.
Referee, C. P. Blackburn.

Hard Luck, Indeed.

Robert was decided in his refusal to go with his family to a dinner at his uncle's house. When pressed for a reason he said: "Well, it's mighty tough on a guy to have nothing to play with but girls and them all relations, at that."

This statement is made on authority of Representative Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican congressional committee who was in charge of the Republican congressional campaign at that time and who has never forgiven the food controller for "butting" into partisan politics in that campaign.

Chairman Fess said today: "Hoover attempted to capitalize the blood of our sons fighting and dying in France for partisan purposes. If any one has the hardihood to present his name in the Republican convention this plea for Democratic control will be read to the convention."

The plea referred to by Dr. Fess was put out by Hoover on the Monday before election day.

NAME "BAYER" ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

Safe, proper directions in each "Bayer" package

The "Bayer Cross" placed on tablets means you are getting true "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" proved safe by millions of people—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years.

In every handy "Bayer" package are proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis and for Pain generally.

Tin boxes of 12 tablets, cost only a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

DON'T YOU BE DECEIVED

Sprays and Salves Will Not Cure Catarrh.

By the persistent use of external applications, you may stop the catarrhal discharges from your nose, and throat. The trouble will, however, return in a more aggravated form.

It is said that the glands of the nose and throat act as "an emergency plug for the human sewerage system," that when the kidneys, skin and lungs are unable to properly dispose of some of the impurities that collect in those organs, such impurities are thrown out through the glands of the nose and throat. Head colds, due to exposure must not, however, be confused with the chronic aggravated condition of the nose and throat traceable to impure blood.

The best way to relieve this condition of chronic catarrh is by cleansing the blood of the impurities that have collected in the system. There is no better treatment than Prescription C-2223, the great blood purifier. This reliable alternative prescription treatment corrects the impure state of the blood, gives the tissues an opportunity to exercise their normal functions and results in the relief of the catarrhal condition so dangerous to good health.

To help throw off the poisons, something to stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels is necessary. There is nothing better than 2223 Liver Pills. This tonic vegetable pill does not sicken or gripe. One is a dose.

Your druggist guarantees and sells Prescription C-2223 at $1.50 a bottle and 2223 Liver Pills at 25c a box, or 2223 Laboratory, 126 Second Avenue South, will send both postpaid on receipt of $1.75. Write for literature, 1920 Almanac and sample of pills.

ALL STAR TEAM IS PICKED BY GAZETTE

The Gazette and Republican is announcing the following aggregation as its picked mythical all-star team of the Central High School basketball tournament at the rink last week.

While there was an abundance of mediocre talent on hand there were few first class players which made selection a difficult one. Sparkling forwards were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth, yet Luce, of Cedarville, would have appeared in better form had a recent illness not hindered his playing. This laid while only participating in part of each game in which his team played, is given the call for forward as he plays a consistent game and has a keen eye on the basket. Atlee of Port William, is selected for the other position because of his floor game, while Cramer of Bellbrook, and Husted of Yellow Springs are picked for the second team.

There was a dearth of good centers, but McClain, high score man for the tourney, is placed at the tip-off position, with Turner of Bellbrook, as second choice. Woods of Port William, played an all-around floor game and gets one of the guard positions, while Finley, a fast man and with a good eye on the net, is selected as his running mate. Weiss of Yellow Springs, Davis, the boy wonder of Cedarville, Perry of Jamestown, and Wood of Bellbrook, were runners up for the position.

First Team: Luce, Ced.; Atlee, P. W.; McClain, Ced.; Woods, P. W.; Finley, Bell.; Weiss, Y. S.; Davis, Ced.; Perry, Jamestown; Wood, Bellbrook.

Second Team: Turner, Bell.; Cramer, Bell.; Husted, Y. S.; Wood, P. W.; L. G.; Davis, Ced.; Finley, Bell.; R. G.; Weiss, Y. S.; Substitutes, forwards—Ferguson, James, Anthony, Bellbrook; center—Haley, P. W.; guards—Perry, James, Woods, Bellbrook.

| | Fld. | Foul. | To't. |
|------------------|------|-------|-------|
| McClain, Ced. | 19 | 7 | 45 |
| Turner, Bell. | 7 | 4 | 18 |
| Atlee, P. W. | 7 | 0 | 14 |
| Haley, P. W. | 4 | 6 | 14 |
| Cramer, Bell. | 6 | 1 | 13 |
| Luce, Ced. | 5 | 0 | 12 |
| H. Brill, Beaver | 6 | 0 | 12 |
| Woods, P. W. | 5 | 0 | 10 |

SIX HOUR DAY IS AID TO SATAN

New York, Jan. 26—The six hour day is an aid to satan, according to John D. Rockefeller, Jr. In explaining why he is against the shorter working day the son of the oil magnate said:

"When my children ask me some times, 'papa, why are you always kept so busy,' I say that I keep busy because I realize that the devil has lots of work for idle hands."

SAYS HUSBAND CAN SEE A BIG CHANGE IN HER

Benefits This Woman Gained on Vola-Tonic Are Easily Noticed.

Although Mrs. Mary Bonner, of 737 Clark street, Cincinnati, O., has been taking Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," only a short time, she is so much improved that she says her husband can see a big change in her.

"I know I feel a lot better and the fact that my husband can see such a big change in me is convincing proof of the work Vola-Tonic has been doing in my case," Mrs. Bonner said.

"My stomach troubled me and I also have been nervous and run down for a long time," she continued. "I had indigestion and constipation and gas always formed on my stomach after eating. I was constipated so bad that I had to take laxatives all the time."

"Now, consider that I have only taken one bottle of Vola-Tonic and then see if you don't think what the medicine has done for me has been unusual."

"The constipation is gone. I do not have to take laxatives at all now. The indigestion is much better also, and I am never troubled with gas on my stomach after eating now. My nerves, too, have been greatly improved by Vola-Tonic and I notice that I have been built up all over."

"My husband says he can notice a big change in my condition, and that is convincing proof that the medicine has done me a great deal of good."

"It is a real pleasure for me to recommend Vola-Tonic to everybody who is suffering as I did."

Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," brings the weakened, run down man or woman a good appetite and good digestion. It helps the stomach take strengthening nutrition from food to nourish and build up the body and system all over. Vola-Tonic also helps the nerves and permits sound, energy restoring sleep every night. As a result, the weakened, run down man or woman soon turns to full normal strength and health.

Vola-Tonic, "Builder of Strength," has been introduced in Xenia at Sears and Roebuck.

GRANGE NOTES

Every patron should plan to attend the Pomona Grange at Yellow Springs next Wednesday, Jan. 28.

The young people of Beaver Grange are planning to give a play early in the spring.

The continued stormy and icy weather is making it difficult for the Granges to get their officers installed and work started for the new year.

It is an interesting fact that the new master of the National Grange, Sherman J. Lowell, is a member of Freedom Grange No. 1, in New York State, the first subordinate Grange organized in the U. S. It has over 800 members.

State Master Taber in re-appointing S. H. Shawhan, deputy for Greene county, writes: "This will be the easiest year in our history to organize new Granges. Seven new Granges were organized the first seven days in the new year. The defeat of classification has convinced all thinking farmers of the value of the Grange."

The Ohio State Grange on Dec. 1, 1919, numbered 821 subordinate Granges with 37,508 members, an increase of over 11,500 members in 1920 will no doubt be easily reached. The State Grange receipts for the last fiscal year was $37,000, and the State Grange has $50,000 invested in Liberty bonds.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED---AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

ROBERT DINES AT MARION HOOVEYS CHAPTER 35

Robert was spending the evening with Marion Hovey. I had not told him, simply said he would not be at home for dinner. Many people would think I should not have felt any jealousy, because Robert so frankly told me where he was going. But I visualized him sitting at dinner in the Hoveys' cozy dining room Marion all in white—She wore black for her father when she went out, but Murphy had told me that she thought it too depressing for the other children to see her in black at home, so she had decided to wear white in the house.

"I guess she knows white is most becoming," I had said to Jane. Then I was ashamed of myself for the catty remark.

But I could not control my thoughts, and so I visualized the little dinner party, white dress and all. Then I imagined them when dinner over, they repaired to the living room, and after Robert had smoked his cigar, bent over the paper she did not understand; their heads close together his dark one and her fair one. Finally I could endure sitting at home no longer so I proposed to Aunt:

"Suppose we go out too. Would you like to go to a motion picture? I knew she loved the cinema pictures and would not object to go every night if she were invited."

There was one thing I could not become accustomed to in Robert's aunt; yet I have since learned that many people like her: If I said I wanted to go anywhere, she invariably objected. But if I asked her if she would like to go, she always seemed willing, even anxious. So I asked her if she would like the motion pictures, because I thought I might be diverted, and forget that Robert was spending the evening with Marion Hovey.

"Yes, we'll go to the Rivoli tonight," she returned.

I made no objection to her choice and we hurried away. But altho the picture was a good one it did not bring me the diversion I had hoped it would; neither did it make me forget Robert and Marion Hovey.

I found myself wondering what they had for dinner. Then disgusted compelled myself to look at the picture. Again after a while I wondered if they were reading aloud to each other. Robert had told me once that Marion read so well he often asked her to read something to him. I was exasperated almost hated myself because I was unable to put such thoughts from me and enjoy the pictures as Aunt Felicia seemed to. Her laugh often caused others to turn and smile, it was so hearty. And I comforted myself that she at least was pleased and happy; so would not be so difficult to talk to if Robert remained late.

We had gone to the first show so would be home a little after 9 o'clock. As Aunt never retired before 11, I would have two hours in which to entertain her alone if Robert did not come in.

My mind rehearsed the talk in the shop. I wondered if Mary Ryan really would do as she had said. I hated to have her leave the boarding house altho I had seen very little of her since Aunt Felicia came. But I knew she was there, and we frequently walked home together.

"Aren't you enjoying the show?" Aunt asked.

"Yes—the picture is fairly good." "Fairly good!" she sniffed. "It's the best one we have seen this year. Bill Hart is wonderful! I like him better than Douglas Fairbanks or any of the fellows who do Wild West pictures."

I am glad you like it. Aunt subsided, and I went on thinking. It seemed that every little annoying thing I had experienced for weeks came to my mind. I even wondered when Aunt Felicia was going home, and figured how much it would cost to entertain her all the weeks she had spent with us. I was ashamed of myself, but some way seemed unable to control my thoughts.

I was glad when the show was over, and rose with alacrity. Aunt fumbled with her raps, and the crowd for the second show came in before we were out of our seats.

To my surprise Robert was at home when we reached the boarding house. I knew the moment I saw him that something had happened. But I would not question him before he left, so waited until after she had left us before I asked him what brought him home so early; and what happened to make him look so glum, and disappointed.

FIRST WEEK, 5 EGGS; SECOND, 72; THIRD, 104

Hens Showed Steady Egg Gain for Mrs. Pierce in Winter Weather.

"The week before we tried Don Sung we got 5 eggs, from 50 hens. The next week, from a 50-cent package of Don Sung, we got 72 eggs, and the next week 104. Some of our hens are more pullets and Don Sung has started them laying." Mrs. B. F. Pierce, R. F. D. 1, Butler, Tenn.

Mrs. Pierce selected a severe time for her test—the middle of January. Yet she started getting the eggs promptly. Our hens can lay well in cold weather and will prove it. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and wait results for one month. If you don't get that it pays for itself and you on a good profit besides, simply send your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese) for egg-laying works directly on the egg-laying organ, and is also a mild tonic. It easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail enclosed. Eugene Chingier Co., 234 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

ROBERT DINES AT MARION HOOVEY'S

CHAPTER 35

Robert was spending the evening with Marion Hovey. I had not told his aunt, simply said he would not be at home for dinner. Many people would think I should not have felt any jealousy, because Robert so frank told me where he was going. But I visualized him sitting at dinner in the Hovey's cozy dining room Marion all in white—She wore black for her father when she went out, but Murphy had told me that she thought it too depressing for the other children to see her in black at home; so she had decided to wear white in the house.

"I guess she knows white is most becoming," I had said to Jane. "Then I was ashamed of myself for the contrary remark."

But I could not control my thoughts, and so I visualized the little dinner party, white dress and all. Then I imagined them when dinner over, they repaired to the living room, and after Robert had smoked his cigar, bent over the paper she did not understand; their heads close together, his dark one and her fair one. Finally I could endure sitting at home no longer so I proposed to Aunt:

"Suppose we go out too. Would you like to go to a motion picture? I know she loved the cinema pictures and would not object to go every night if she were invited."

It was one thing I could not become accustomed to in Robert's aunt; yet I have since learned there are many people like her: If I said I wanted to go anywhere, she invariably objected. But if I asked her if she would like to go, she always seemed willing, even anxious. So I asked her if she would like the motion pictures, because I thought I might be diverted, and forget that Robert was spending the evening with Marion Hovey.

"Yes, we'll go to the Rivoli tonight," she returned.

I made no objection to her choice and we hurried away. But altho the picture was a good one it did not bring me the diversion I had hoped it would; neither did it make me forget Robert and Marion Hovey.

I found myself wondering what they had for dinner. Then disgusted compelled myself to look at the picture. Again after a while I wondered if they were reading aloud to each other. Robert had told me once that Marion read so well he often asked her to read something to him. I was exasperated almost hated myself because I was unable to put such thoughts from me and enjoy the picture as Aunt Felicia seemed to. Her laugh often caused others to turn and smile, it was so hearty. And I comforted myself that she at least was pleased and happy; so would not be so difficult to talk to if Robert remained late. We had gone to the first show so would be home a little after 9 o'clock. As Aunt never retired before 11. I would have two hours in which to entertain her alone if Robert did not come in.

My mind rehearsed the talk in the shop. I wondered if Mary Ryan really would do as she had said. I hated to have her leave the boarding house altho I had seen very little of her since Aunt Felicia came. But I knew she was there, and we frequently walked home together.

"Aren't you enjoying the show?" Aunt asked.

"Yes—the picture is fairly good." "Fairly good!" she sniffed. "It's the best one we have seen this year. Bill Hart is wonderful! I like him better than Douglas Fairbanks or any of the fellows who do Wild West pictures."

"I am glad you like it." Aunt subsided, and I went on thinking. It seemed that every little annoying thing I had experienced for weeks came to my mind. I even wondered when Aunt Felicia was going home, and figured how much it would cost to entertain her all the weeks she had spent with us. I was ashamed of myself, but some way seemed unable to control my thoughts.

I was glad when the show was over, and rose with alacrity. Aunt fumbled with her raps, and the crowd for the second show came in before we were out of our seats.

To my surprise Robert was at home when we reached the boarding house. I knew the moment I saw him that something had happened. But I would not question him before his aunt, so waited until after she had left us before I asked him what brought him home so early; and what happened to make him look so glum, and disappointed.

Hens Showed Steady Egg Gain for Mrs. Pierce in Winter Weather.

"The week before we tried Don Sung we got 5 eggs, from 50 hens. The next week, from a 50-cent package of Don Sung, we got 72 eggs, and the next week 104. Some of our hens are more pulets and Don Sung has started them laying."—Mrs. E. F. Pierce, R. F. D. 1, Butler, Tenn.

Mrs. Pierce selected a severe time for her test—the middle of January. Yet she started getting the eggs promptly. Our hens can lay well in cold weather and will move it. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and wait results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pay on a good profit basis, simply 1/2 and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese) for egg-laying works directly on the egg-laying organ, and is also a steady tonic. It really given in the feed improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs you need, how sold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail, enclosed. Burnsinger Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

The pension plan of railroads is gradually extending westward. It is reported that the Pennsylvania is apparently in good running order east of Pittsburg, and that as the old employees are retiring on pension and replaced by new ones, perfect harmony exists. Within six months or a year this plan will undoubtedly be under operation west of Pittsburg as well.

COLUMBUS SOLDIER TELLS OF HARROWING EXPERIENCE ON STORM BEATEN POWHATAN

New York, Jan. 26.—Private Jesse D. Taggart, aged 19, son of W. I. Taggart, of 2375 Indianola avenue, Columbus, reached Hoboken this noon on the army transport Northern Pacific in company with 2700 other passengers which the vessel rescued from the disabled transport Powhatan, 240 miles southeast of Halifax Thursday night. There the Powhatan wallowed helplessly in icy seas for six days.

The Columbus boy who shared in this marine adventure, which is characterized in ship circles here as being the most thrilling experience of the year, came ashore in excellent health, and with the other members of his unit known as Camp Mead replacement unit No. 28, partook of the bountiful relief fare which was provided by army auxiliary organizations.

Private Taggart found all New York swathed in a slushy mantle of sleet and snow, but he smiled as he looked out over the dreary Hoboken street and said: "You bet we're glad to get back. For often in spite of the wireless and the ships which were on the way to help us we thought we'd never make it."

Although here and there one could see a soldier with a sprained ankle or an injured arm being helped down the stairs from pier No. 3, where the Northern Pacific lay, the Columbus boy escaped uninjured. He did not seem put out over his experience and voiced the hope of soon starting off for Europe again.

The ship which was taking him abroad was still relatively near the American coast when it suffered engine trouble which, coupled with the high seas, resulted in a leak which threatened to send her to the bottom before relief could come.

"We are to start off again," said Taggart, "as I understand in a few days. Now we are heading for Camp Merritt, N. J., where we are to be held up until a ship can be provided to take us over. We are told that the Northern Pacific which brought us back will be ready to go inside a few days, and we may make our second start on it."

Private Taggart, who formerly was employed at the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co., in Columbus, enlisted in the replacement service October eighth at the Columbus barracks.

High Sea Running

"The first indication of any trouble we had on board ship," said Private Taggart, "came last Saturday week, when one of the engines went bad. A very high sea was running and the weather was bitter cold. A wireless call for help was sent out and when the Northern Comet, a merchant ship appeared, we hooked on to be towed. But the line parted, and as the sea constantly was running rougher and rougher, we could not again get near the other vessel."

"For some reason which nobody seemed to know, or to be willing to explain, the boat sprung a leak which admitted water at an alarming rate. We were all given buckets and had to bail water, for by this time the water had entered the boiler room, and the boat was dead so far as power was concerned. Of course there was no hot food and we got along for the most part on hardtack, and a little canned meat, although there wasn't much of this."

Children on Board

"The worst of it was the exposure. We didn't have any heat, of course, after the boiler room was flooded. It was pretty hard on the children, a number of whom were on board. This aimless wallowing about continued from Sunday to Thursday, and during that time we had no regular meals, and existence was terrible. At night no lights, and in the day time just waiting to see if it would get so we could be taken off."

"There were accidents in connection with our rescue, but the men in my company escaped. I was lowered on a rope to the life boat of the Northern Pacific, which took us off. Soon myself and fifteen others were safe on the transport, where we were dried, fed and given a warm bed. Along with us were 67 members of the Grave Registration Unit, all dertakers. At first when we started, they spoke with elation of getting a free ride on the government."

POWHATAN PASSENGERS CALL TEXAS WOMAN REAL HEROINE

New York, Jan. 26.—The real heroine of the Powhatan was declared by all passengers to be Mrs. John A. Worden, of McKinney, Texas. With her three children she had sailed on the Powhatan for Paris to join her husband, a lieutenant colonel on duty in Paris.

When the Northern Pacific was taking off the Powhatan's passengers of Thursday night while searchlights for surrounding vessels played upon the waters, Mrs. Worden stood on the deck of the Powhatan and superintended the lowering of her three children into a lifeboat. She took off her coat and wrapped it around her youngest child. As a result she caught cold and today she had to be taken to a hospital. She was suffering from pneumonia. She is expected to recover.

Misuse of Words.

The misuse of words in literature of ungoverned and ungovernable sensibility has become so general as to threaten the validity of all definitions. The connection between sign and thing signified has been so severed that it resembles the logic of that eminent master of argumentation of whom it was said "that his premises might be afflicted with the confluent smallpox without his conclusion being in any danger of catching it." Objects are distorted, relations disturbed; language put upon the rack to torment it into intensity and the old composition seems like Tennyson's organizing "groaning for power."—Edwin Percy Whipple.

New Excuse for Stealing.

A man in St. Louis, arrested for stealing eighty pounds of metal, a handful at a time, said he did it because he was "suffering from a bad wooden leg" and wanted money to buy a new one.

The Mission of Money!

FEW PEOPLE INDEED REALLY UNDERSTAND THE mission of money. Some will hoard it, taking special delight in its very "feel." Others will economize, sacrifice and save for purpose of investment with the single purpose of accumulating more money. Still others—and this is the popular classification—crave money for immediate dissipation in the merely transient pleasures of life without thought for what the future may bring.

THE DOLLAR IS VALUELESS UNLESS PROPERLY SPENT. The man of wisdom, choosing for illustration, between a dollar and a dollar's worth of lumber or steel, would unhesitatingly take the latter for the reason that from such he would fashion something useful, something which would contribute in some manner to his comfort, convenience and enjoyment whereas the actual dollar would always remain the same.

ALL OF WHICH BRINGS US TO the main point—THE PROPER EXPENDITURE OF MONEY. Life begins and ends in the home. Greatly over one-half of one's existence is spent there. Therefore, is it not logical that THE HOME OF YOUR OWN should be the goal of every rightminded man's endeavor?—IS IN FACT THE IDEAL THING UPON WHICH HE SHOULD SPEND HIS MONEY.

WITH THE FUTURE LITERALLY BURDENED WITH glorious possibilities; with opportunity knocking loudly at the door of every worthy man; with every possible assurance that honest, industrious effort toward this end will neither be interrupted nor curtailed there has never in all history been such a time to begin. "The Mission of Money," in its final analysis, is its contributions to legitimate, wholesome human happiness and every real comfort, every real pleasure, in fact the sum and substance of all human content begins and ends in the struggle for the ultimate possession of the HOME OF YOUR OWN.

COLUMBUS SOLDIER TELLS OF HARROWING EXPERIENCE ON STORM BEATEN POWHATAN

New York, Jan. 26.—Private Jesse D. Taggart, aged 19, son of W. I. Taggart, of 2379 Indianola avenue, Columbus, reached Hoboken this noon on the army transport Northern Pacific in company with 2700 other passengers which the vessel rescued from the disabled transport Powhatan, 240 miles southeast of Halifax Thursday night. There the Powhatan wallowed helplessly in icy seas for six days.

The Columbus boy who shared in this marine adventure, which is characterized in ship circles here as being the most thrilling experience of the year, came ashore in excellent health, and with the other members of his unit known as Camp Mead replacement unit No. 28, partook of the bountiful relief fare which was provided by army auxiliary organizations.

Private Taggart found all New York swathed in a slushy mantle of sleet and snow, but he smiled as he looked out over the dreary Hoboken street and said: "You bet we're glad to get back. For often in spite of the wireless and the ships which were on the way to help us, we thought we'd never make it."

Escaped Injury

Although here and there one could see a soldier with a sprained ankle or an injured arm being helped down the stairs from pier No. 3, where the Northern Pacific lay, the Columbus boy escaped uninjured. He did not seem put out over his experience and voiced the hope of soon starting off for Europe again.

The ship which was taking him abroad was still relatively near the American coast when it suffered engine trouble which, coupled with the high seas, resulted in a leak which threatened to send her to the bottom before relief could come.

"We are to start off again," said Taggart, "as I understand in a few days. Now we are heading for Camp Merritt, N. J., where we are to be held up until a ship can be provided to take us over. We are told that the Northern Pacific which brought us back will be ready to go inside a few days, and we may make our second start on it."

Private Taggart, who formerly was employed at the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co., in Columbus, enlisted in the replacement service October eighth at the Columbus barracks.

High Sea Running

"The first indication of any trouble we had on board ship," said Private Taggart, "came last Saturday week, when one of the engines went bad. A very high sea was running and the weather was bitter cold. A wireless call for help was sent out and when the Northern Comet, a merchant ship appeared, we hooked on to be towed. But the line parted, and as the sea constantly was running rougher and rougher, we could not again get near the other vessel.

"For some reason which nobody seemed to know, or to be willing to explain, the boat sprung a leak which admitted water at an alarming rate. We were all given buckets and had to bail water, for by this time the water had entered the boiler room, and the boat was dead so far as power was concerned. Of course there was no hot food and we got along for the most part on hardtack, and a little canned meat, although there wasn't much of this.

Children on Board

"The worst of it was the exposure. We didn't have any heat, of course, after the boiler room was flooded. It was pretty hard on the children, a number of whom were on board. This aimless wallowing about continued from Sunday to Thursday, and during that time we had no regular meals, and existence was terrible. At night no lights, and in the day time just waiting to see if it would get so we could be taken off."

"There were accidents in connection with our rescue, but the men in my company escaped. I was lowered on a rope to the life boat of the Northern Pacific, which took us off. Soon myself and fifteen others were safe on the transport, where we were dried, fed and given a warm bed. Along with us were 67 members of the Grave Registration Unit, all dentakers. At first when we started, they spoke with elation of getting a free ride on the government.

POWHATAN PASSENGERS CALL TEXAS WOMAN REAL HEROINE

New York, Jan. 26.—The real heroine of the Powhatan was declared by all passengers to be Mrs. John A. Worden, of McKinney, Texas. With her three children she had sailed on the Powhatan for Paris to join her husband, a lieutenant colonel on duty in Paris.

When the Northern Pacific was taking off the Powhatan's passengers of Thursday night while searchlights for surrounding vessels played upon the waters, Mrs. Worden stood on the deck of the Powhatan and superintended the lowering of her three children into a lifeboat. She took off her coat and wrapped it around her youngest child. As a result she caught cold and today she had to be taken to a hospital. She was suffering from pneumonia. She is expected to recover.

Misuse of Words.

The misuse of words in literature of ungoverned and ungovernable sensibility has become so general as to threaten the validity of all definitions. The connection between sign and thing signified has been so severed that it resembles the logic of that eminent master of argumentation of whom it was said "that his premises might be afflicted with the confluent smallpox without his conclusion being in any danger of catching it." Objects are distorted, relations disturbed; language put upon the rack to torment it into intensity and the old composition seems like Tennyson's organizing "groaning for power."—Edwin Percy Whipple.

New Excuse for Stealing.

A man in St. Louis, arrested for stealing eighty pounds of metal, a handful at a time, said he did it because he was "suffering a bad wooden leg" and wanted money to buy a new one.

The Mission of Money!

FEW PEOPLE INDEED REALLY UNDERSTAND THE mission of money. Some will hoard it, taking special delight in its very "feel." Others will economize, sacrifice and save for purpose of investment with the single purpose of accumulating more money. Still others—and this is the popular classification—crave money for immediate dissipation in the merely transient pleasures of life without thought for what the future may bring.

THE DOLLAR IS VALUELESS UNLESS PROPERLY SPENT. The man of wisdom, choosing for illustration, between a dollar and a dollar's worth of lumber or steel, would unhesitatingly take the latter for the reason that from such he would fashion something useful, something which would contribute in some manner to his comfort, convenience and enjoyment whereas the actual dollar would always remain the same.

ALL OF WHICH BRINGS US TO the main point—THE PROPER EXPENDITURE OF MONEY. Life begins and ends in the home. Greatly over one-half of one's existence is spent there. Therefore, is it not logical that THE HOME OF YOUR OWN should be the goal of every rightminded man's endeavor?—IS IN FACT THE IDEAL THING UPON WHICH HE SHOULD SPEND HIS MONEY.

WITH THE FUTURE LITERALLY BURDENED WITH glorious possibilities; with opportunity knocking loudly at the door of every worthy man; with every possible assurance that honest, industrious effort toward this end will neither be interrupted nor curtailed there has never in all history been such a time to begin. "The Mission of Money," in its final analysis, is its contributions to legitimate, wholesome human happiness and every real comfort, every real pleasure, in fact the sum and substance of all human content begins and ends in the struggle for the ultimate possession of the HOME OF YOUR OWN.
